PRICING SIMULATIONS

The costs, simply estimated in this document, are necessarily deducted from the return on your investments.

We hereby provide you with an estimate of the costs and expenses relating to our investment services and the financial instruments that may be acquired in this context. We also provide you with an estimate of potential payments from third parties. All of the costs, and more generally the amounts, in this pricing simulation document are given as examples only. They do not presume the costs and fees that will ultimately be billed in relation to the investments that will actually be made. The same is true of estimates of potential payments from third parties.

In accordance with the rules in force, we present these amounts, simply estimated, in an aggregated manner, as an absolute amount and in percentage format. In the case of investment-advisory and discretionary-management services, these costs and fees were determined by reference to sample portfolios during a given period. In particular, with regard to the order receiving/sending service, they are the subject of a reasonable estimate. The elements communicated throughout this document are based on our current rates, available on our website www.ca-indosuez.com and, upon request, at the headquarters of our Bank.

Your Wealth Manager remains available to provide any additional information you may require.

The illustrations of the costs and fees in this document are to be increased, if necessary, by any taxes and duties, of whatever nature, including VAT at the rate in force, due to a service provided or in view of the investments made.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

REMUNERATION AND OTHER BENEFITS THAT THE BANK MAY RECEIVE FROM THIRD PARTIES

You have already been informed that the Bank may receive commissions from third parties for services that it provides under agreements that are independent and autonomous of relations with its clients, notably regarding its marketing of financial instruments relating to the range of assets that the Bank selects for its clients and/or the management of underlying assets for these instruments. We invite you to familiarise yourself with or re-read our General Terms and Conditions concerning this point.

Please find below additional information regarding the type, scope and calculation basis of these commissions. We hereby remind you that this information is subject to change.

The Bank may also receive non-financial benefits, for example, financial analyses that it can use—along with other information—to determine its investment strategy and to supplement any investment advice provided.

We would like to specify that we choose the third parties with whom we work based on objective, quantitative and qualitative criteria. Commissions and benefits received do not play a part in this selection. This selection policy is in line with our policy on managing conflicts of interest, which can be found at www.ca-indosuez.com.
